

Stephen L. Griner

Chief Executive Officer

"I believe in the saying 'life begins at the end of your comfort zone.' We should all continue to push ourselves everyday and never settle for ordinary."

Stephen has spent his entire career in the financial services industry.

He was one of the founding employees of Persium Group in 2004 and quickly grew into a leadership role, becoming an owner and principal in 2009. During his time with Persium, he has held many positions, including Director of Investment Services, Chief Compliance Officer, Chief Investment Officer, and President.

Stephen is a cum laude graduate of the University of Georgia's Terry College of Business with a degree in Finance. In 2010, he earned the Chartered Financial Analyst designation. He serves on the Southeast Executive Committee for Business Executives for National Security and is President of the Board of Directors for the City Academy of Atlanta.

He is a native of Georgia and spent his formative years in Athens. Stephen married his high school sweetheart, Angela, with whom he has twin boys.
